

CONTRIBUTING TO WORTHY RELIEF WORK

The Student Friendship Fund CANADA'S SHARE

European Relief and Its Mutual Benefits

Next week students and professors of McGill will be called upon to contribute once more to the Student Friendship Fund, a cause they have generously supported in the past three years along with other universities in Canada, and throughout the world for that matter, and a cause which needs little explanation to its extreme importance and significance.

The work this fund is doing is not merely relief of impoverished students and professors of European countries supplying them with food and clothing, medical treatment and housing accommodation, books and bare necessities of living; but it is giving them great moral support and creating a spirit of goodwill and friendship between the nations. Canada's contributions of the three years are now creating for her a fine prestige and a worthy name in European countries.

This year Canada's objective is set at $5000.00—less than former years—of which McGill students are asked to contribute $250.00. Although times of great emergency and immediate relief are, fortunately, past, there is still need for support of thousands of students and professors who are barely existing on a few cents a day, who can find no employment nor even facilities for study, and who are virtually obtaining a bare existence entirely dependent on outside help.

The interest and co-operation of the students in this worthy cause will be a measure of their thankfulness for living in a land of better conditions and opportunities.

ROWING CLUB WILL OBTAIN CLUBHOUSE

Space Still Open For Students During Summer

Among other things discussed at an executive meeting of the Rowing Club in the Union Lounge Room on Tuesday was the matter of providing accommodation for the Lakeside Club House this summer. The Secretary was instructed to write to obtain the club house for another season. A large number of men have already signified their intention of residing at the Club House during the summer and practically all last year's residents are anxious to return this year. The necessity of applying for accommodation at once was stressed.

Already there are a sufficient number of applicants to make the House pay for itself and there is still some space not occupied. All students, whether they intend to row or not are welcome to come. Train service within the city is excellent and cheap and most of the applicants intend to work in the city but go to the Lakeside at night. The Club House will hold twenty-four persons, comfortably. There will be a cook. It is expected who will prepare breakfast and dinner at night and a mid-day meal if it is desired. The whole thing will likely be run on a co-operative basis. The Committee desires to give this notice so that maybe a few more fellows who work in the city, will be able to stay out at the Lakeside and enjoy boating and swimming facilities for a reasonable price. Besides the boats and swimming at the Club House there is, by the way, a good tennis club at Lakeside with a large membership.

DENTISTRY '25 ELECT GRADUATING OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of Dents '25 which was held in the new Medical Building, Jekill, the president stated that the annual Dental Banquet will be held at the Windsor Hotel. The president informed the graduating Dentists that the committee had obtained as the speakers for the evening several of the city's most prominent men in both professional and business life.

The business part of the meeting consisted of the election of a Graduating Exercises Committee, a Vaudeville, a Historian and a Prophet. The following were elected to the respective positions: Graduating Exercises Committee: Blair, Corin, and MacCallum. Vaudeville: Jekill, Historian: Lowry, Prophet: Burgess.

WATER POLO AT TORONTO ON SATURDAY

Strong Team For First Of Scheduled Games With Varsity

SWIMMING TONIGHT

Game To Be Very Fast As Substitutes Can Be Used

On Saturday night at Toronto the McGill swimmers will again resume hostilities with the Varsity, when the McGill polo team engages in a game with the Varsity squad. Meanwhile the swimmers compete in the intercollegiate meet to-night. The polo team has been considerably bolstered by the addition of Adams, MacLaren and Moore. Les Parsons will be unable to play on account of an old injury received in football.

During the past few weeks the fellows have been indulging in some strenuous practice and are in perfect condition to do their best.

McGill men have held the championship for the past ten years, and they will have nothing undone to repeat the performance of past years.

Mr. Vernon, the coach, has brought the team into the best of form for the game on Saturday night, and he stated that there was a very good chance for this year's tankmen. Jack Jardine the goalie has been doing some excellent work, and the Toronto men will have had work to put anything past him. The defense line will be handled by Anson this year's captain and Irwin Forsythe, the "plunging parson." Both these men have been on previous senior teams and have shown up well.

Vickerson and "Little" Moore will most likely play forward, the latter replacing Les Parsons. George Vernon will play centre for the Red and White, and is bound to give the Varsity men considerable trouble. The substitutes will most likely be Adams, MacLaren and Kyle. Adams and MacLaren are both newcomers in the senior ranks but have shown up very well in intermediate polo.

As the game is played under rules where substitutes are allowed it is sure to be a fast game. The probable line up of the men is as follows:

Goal:—Jardine
Defense:—Anson
Defense:—Forsythe
Centre:—Vernon
Forward:—Vickerson
Forward:—Moore
Subs:—Adams
Subs:—MacLaren
Subs:—Kyle

FIRST TEAM WON IN BASKETBALL

Honours Divided Between M.S.P.E. and Y.W.C.A.

Honours were divided on Tuesday night when two basketball games were played in the Montreal High School gymnasium between Y. W. C. A. and the M. S. P. E. first and second teams. The game between the first teams resulted in a victory of 41-29 for the M. S. P. E. In the other game the score was exactly reversed. Y. W. C. A. taking the victory by a 41-29 score.

Good shooting was a feature of the first game, Miss Galton and Miss Field of the M. S. P. E. showing splendid form. An unfortunate accident occurred in the first half when Miss Gwen Amaron, M. S. P. E. regular, sustained a badly sprained ankle when jumping for the ball. In spite of this weakening of the team the score steadily crept up for the McGill girls over the lead secured by the Y. W. C. A. In the opening moments of play. Superior passing and combination was mainly responsible for the long lead over the Y. W. C. A. when the whistle blew.

The score of 29-41 in favour of the Y. W. C. A. in the second game played hardly indicates the difference between the two teams which were really very closely matched. The end of the first period saw the M. S. P. E. ahead with a score of 16-14. In the second period however the Y team had the decided advantage submerging their opponents score so that at the end of the game the Y girls had obtained their revenge for the defeat of their first team.

Miss Cartwright of the M. S. P. E. acted as referee and Miss Ibbotson, Y. W. C. A. as umpire for both games.

CANADIAN B. W. & F. TEAMS GO TO U.S.

Four McGill Men On Intercollegiate Teams

Four McGill men members of the Intercollegiate Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing teams left for Annapolis where they will join the Toronto entrants in an Assault against the strong U. S. Naval Academy men. The only men on the Red and White squads that will participate in this meet are Demitre the 175 lb. wrestler, Cape who boxes in the 125 lb. class and the two fencers Kneec and Cresthol.

Freedman and Clement, the only other wrestlers who won their finals at Toronto and are eligible to go, cannot make the trip because this is their final year and they cannot afford to lose that much time. Taylor, the other boxer who was to make the trip, is still laid up with a broken hand and will not be able to fight. The semi-finalists in these weights and who all happen to be from Toronto will replace them.

The fencers should have a good chance to win both having fenced for several years and Cresthol for two years was intercollegiate champion. Demitre, the wrestler, has had two years' experience and showed up well at the recent Assault-at-Arms. Cape, who is the boxing entry, is a freshman but has done great work so far this year and has shown himself to be a boy that can take all kinds punishment and give it back with interest.

STANSTEAD ALUMNI BANQUET TO-NIGHT

Graduates To Hold A Re-Union Banquet At Union To-night

Arrangements have been completed for the annual banquet and reunion of the Montreal District Alumni of Stanstead College is affiliated with McGill University. It has been decided to hold the banquet at the McGill Union, and is to take place in the form of an informal dinner followed by music and dancing, and the date is set for to-night at 7 p.m.

Principal Halpenney and group of the teaching staff are arranging to come in from Stanstead to attend the banquet, and the committee headed by Frank E. Wilson of the Central Y.M.C.A. have made all arrangements for one of the best banquets held by the Alumni in years.

As there are approximately five hundred old students and graduates in and around Montreal, the gathering at the Union to-night is eagerly looked forward to as it is a chance to renew old friendships and to make new acquaintances.

There are also a large number of old Stanstead students now attending the University. It is expected that they will turn out in force for this enjoyable affair.

ANNUAL WILL HAVE EIGHT MORE PAGES

Makes Book Sixteen Pages Larger Than Last Year's

Another eight pages have been added to Old McGill 1925 according to an announcement made last night by the Annual Board. This will make the book sixteen pages larger than last year's volume. Eight pages were added some time ago, but these were found insufficient for the additional material that is to appear in this year's book. The paper will be of a heavier stock than was used in the 1925 book, so that the volume will be much thicker than the tome issued last April.

Notwithstanding the expense involved in this latest addition to the book, the reduced price announced at the beginning of the season will hold good. This means that the book is selling twenty-five cents cheaper than the 1924 and 1925 editions.

As has been previously announced the book will make its appearance on April first. Much of the material is already in the hands of the printers, and a considerable amount has been proofread. Several pictures and write-ups of the different athletic clubs are still outstanding. Delay in the handling of these means a delay in the appearance of the book, it was pointed out.

Several surprises in the way of unique drawings are promised.

DEBATE WITH VARSITY SET FOR TO-NIGHT

Janes and Smith To Argue For McGill

STRATHCONA HALL

Immigration Subject At Final Intercollegiate Debate

"Resolved that Canada should adopt an immigration policy of drastic restrictions similar in principle to that enforced by the United States." This is the issue which will be debated to-night at 8.15 in the final intercollegiate debate at Strathcona Hall when Varsity's two debaters, will meet A. Norman James and R. J. Smith, McGill's representatives, with McGill upholding the affirmative.

The two debaters James and Smith, are both of the class of Arts '25. James, holder of the Talbot-Papineau Memorial cup for impromptu speaking 1923-24 is well known as one of the foremost members of the "Mock" and one of McGill's outstanding debaters. Smith whose advent into the field of oratory is most recent, made a very high showing at the debating eliminations and has shown himself to be a fluent and forceful speaker.

The debate to-night brings to an end the activities of the Literary and Debating society aside from the annual impromptu speaking contest scheduled for next week and the one parliament session to be held during March.

Toronto is sending down, Stark and Van Every two men who are, it is reported excellent debaters so that a keen contest is assured to those who will be present to-night. All students are urged to attend an event conceded to be of the utmost significance.

IMPROMPTU ORATORY AT UNION SOON

Lists Close To-day Sharp At Six

WANT MORE ENTRIES

Mrs. Reford Will Be On Hand To Present Talbot-Papineau Cup

Four entries for the impromptu speaking contest were received yesterday. With the lists only available until six to-day it is expected, however, that there will be at least twenty names in by closing hour. Students may sign at the office of the secretary of the Students' Council.

The annual impromptu contest will be held some day next week. Owing to several clashes on Monday night the event has been postponed, and the day will be made known shortly, just as soon as arrangements can be completed with Mrs. Robert Reford, donor of the Talbot-Papineau Memorial cup, to be on hand the night of the contest and present the award in person.

The event is conceded to be of the utmost significance, ranking among the most important functions of the Literary and Debating Society. Two years ago, Eugene Forsey, Arts '25, scored a great personal triumph in vanquishing a formidable array of orators when he spoke on Canadian Immigration. Last year, A. Norman James repeated the same thing, winning on the same subject. The usual procedure will be followed out at this year's contest with the exception that the speakers, who are given five minutes to prepare their subject matter will be afforded the opportunity of making their preparations in a room other than that in which the contest is being conducted.

The contest is open to McGill men of all years and all faculties. It is expected owing to the great interest that has been manifested by the first year men in debating this year that there will be a large number of freshmen in the contest.

Only a few hours are left in which the students will have the opportunity to make up their minds about entering.

SEMI-FINAL CLASH AT FORUM TO-DAY

Intermediates Meet R.M.C. Champions Of Kingston Section

McGill's intermediate hockey team enters on the last stages of the race for the Canadian championship, when it opposes R.M.C. in the semi-final to-night. The game will be played at 5 o'clock at the forum. No coupon is necessary for admittance, and a good crowd is expected to support McGill's last bid for honours in the hockey world.

"Tiny" Thompson and his men earned the right to meet R.M.C. by defeating the strong team put forward by Loyola last Saturday by the close score of 5-4. This gave her the championship of the Quebec section. The struggle for the championship now centres around the winner of the Quebec, Kingston, and Toronto sections, namely McGill, R.M.C. and Varsity. Toronto drew a bye, and will play the winners of to-night's game.

The cadets of the R.M.C. usually take a prominent place in athletics, and showed up well when they recently defeated the Queen's sextette. To-night's game by no means decides the championship, as Toronto also is strong and will provide a formidable opponent to the successful team.

ST. ANNE'S WON MCGILL JUNIORS

Ragged Game When St. Anne's Outclass Juniors

In a game that was fast, but not productive of the best hockey, St. Anne's hockey team last night outplayed the McGill Junior puck chasers by a score of 7 goals to 1. The play was for the most part rugged and except for a few spectacular rushes by Ahern of St. Anne's and the steady playing of Arnold and Slattery for McGill, the game was inaccurate and unexciting. McGill juniors showed a lack of condition and failed to display former speed and form.

The game opened with both sides scrambling for the puck. Ahern of the St. Anne's brilliant goal-getter, scooped it up and breaking away evaded the McGill defence to get the first past Heeneey. Following this lead, St. Anne's played a defensive game until the end of the first half. Towards the end of the period Ahern again scored for his side. Most of the play was in the McGill territory and many times the St. Anne's forwards had but the goaler to beat.

In the second period both sides opened up and more spectacular play resulted. Ahern evaded the McGill defence and scored, and not 15 seconds later he duplicated his effort. McGill only counter was scored after a scramble in mid-ice. Arnold broke away and shot from outside the defense to score McGill's only goal.

Arnold and Slattery played a stellar game for McGill while Adhearn and Burns starred for St. Anne's. The line up and summary was as follows:

McGill	St. Anne's
Goal	Murphy
Defense	Heeneey
Centre	Camplong
Forwards	Gifford
Subs.	Arnold
	Fry
	Perelval
	Slattery
	Brontone
	Reilly
Summary	Rizon
1st period	Ahern—3.50
2nd period	Ahern—15.50
	Ahern—2.50
	Ahern—4.45
	Burns—11.50
	Burns—4.00
	McGill—3.00
	Quinn—1.00

The literary and debating society executive hope to have, through a large number of entries, as keen a contest as has been staged in previous years.

PROF. WEBSTER LECTURES AT R.V.C. TO-DAY

"History As Applied Science" In The Subject Of His Address

PROMINENT AUTHOR

Has Written Many Works In The Field Of Foreign Affairs

Prof. Chas. K. Webster, who holds the chair of International Politics at Aberystwith (University of Wales) will deliver a lecture to-day at 5 p.m. at the Royal Victoria College his subject being "History as an Applied Science".

Prof. Webster is well known among England's leading historians though under 40 has shown remarkable ability in research especially in the field of foreign affairs during the early nineteenth century. Among his many works are a biography of the Treaty of Vienna and of Castlereagh. He has also published books in English Diplomacy of the same century.

He served his country overseas during the Great War and afterwards was appointed one of the secretaries at the conference of Versailles.

He has had a remarkable career in the historical world. He is a fellow of King's College Cambridge, and in 1911 was given the professorship of Modern History at Liverpool University. In 1921 Professor Zimmern resigned from the chair of International politics at the University of Wales, Professor Webster was appointed to this position, which he holds at the present time. This gives him a great opportunity for his work in foreign research as he lectures for only one term during the year.

At the present time he is engaged in research work in America. Quite recently he delivered an excellent address before the American Historical Association at Richmond, Virginia. The University of Minnesota was fortunate in having him deliver a series of lectures last term. Professor Williams is now touring Canada for the first time and will remain in the city of Montreal tomorrow.

PERFORMANCE BY FACULTY OF MUSIC

Second Orchestral Concert At R. V. C. Last Night

EIGHT NUMBERS

Large Audience Hears Vocal, Violin and Orchestral Selections

An exceptionally large and appreciative audience heard the Second Orchestral Concert given by the McGill University Faculty of Music in the Royal Victoria College last night. The programme consisted of eight numbers, three being selections by the Orchestra and the fourth number being an orchestral selection with a pianoforte solo by Miss F. Ratner. The other numbers were a violin solo by Miss Ethel Stark; a trio for two violins and pianoforte by Miss Kathleen Perlin and Mr. Edwin Sheppard; two songs by Miss Margaret Bell accompanied by Miss Liechtenstein; and an aria by Mrs. Harold Solty.

The opening number by the Orchestra was an Old English Suite, in this Suite Professor Granville Bantock has scored for an Orchestra of the present day, representative works by five well known English composers of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

Miss Ethel Stark in her violin selection Allegro from the Seventh Concerto by De Beriot, charmed her audience and won their admiration for her clever technique.

QUEEN'S WON BASKETBALL FROM R.V.C.

First Game In Ladies' Intercollegiate Series

CLOSE CONTEST

Queen's Meet Varsity In Crucial Game To-morrow

(Special to McGill Daily)

Toronto, Feb. 26:—

The Queens basketball team claimed the first game of the intercollegiate ladies basketball series, by defeating McGill last night with a narrow margin of two points, the final score being 31-29.

It was in the dying moments of the highly exciting contest in the Hart House gymnasium that Queens took the lead, and not until the final blow of the whistle was either side certain of victory.

The McGill Co-ed took the lead alternately with Queens and held the margin of play in most of the game, due to superior combination upon the floor. But the more accurate shooting of the Tri-colour forwards during the latter part of the contest gave them the edge on their opponents.

Queens by virtue of the win last night goes into the series in the series.

McGill will meet Varsity tonight at Hart House and by winning from the Blue and White can tie for first place. If the Tri-colour loses to Varsity Saturday afternoon.

The victory last night was the first experienced by Queens in the history of ladies basketball at the Kingston College.

For McGill Miss R. Danton starred all through the game as well as Miss Allen. Miss Perry was especially good on free throws.

Queens led by two points, 14-12 at half time, but soon after the beginning of the second period McGill overcame that lead and was well ahead in points when the Tri-colour scored four baskets in quick succession taking the game which earlier in the period seemed certain to go the McGill girls.

The line-up:—

R. V. C.	Queens
Forward	P. Perry
Centre	V. Anglin
Centre	M. Norris
Side Centre	M. Ratner
Guard	D. Shannon
Guard	M. Masor
Guard	E. Ward
Guard	Snap
Guard	J. Cornelle
Guard	R. Vince
Guard	H. Shore
Referee	Miss Z. Slack

RESERVATION SALE FOR REVUE HEAVY

Many Well Known People Extend Patronage

The financial outlook for the "Red and White Revue of 1925" already looks promising with a heavy advance reservation sale. This sale is drawn from the public of Montreal, and is due to the use of a subscription list of over 200 names. The students seem to be supporting the production well, though nothing definite will be known for a week, inasmuch as it is necessary for the general public as well as the university itself to bear the expenses of production. This support is very encouraging to the committee.

The following is a partial list of prominent Montrealeers who have extended their patronage to the Revue:— Lord and Lady Atholstan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adair, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Cowans, Dr. and Mrs. Colby, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Birks, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dawes, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. W. O. H. Dods, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fairman, Mr. Justice and Mrs. R. A. E. Greenhields, Lady Hickson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hosmer, Mr. and Mrs. Zepherny Hebert, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kingman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lyman, Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Leacock, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Marler, Mr. and Mrs. Anson McKim, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Macge, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McConnell, Sir Vincent and Lady Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Prentice, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Williams, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. ## OUR DEBT TO CANADA.

Every prominent speaker invited to address a body of students seems to make it a point to recall to his listeners their importance as potential nation builders. The thought that upon university students depends the future direction of organized society, whether inferred or outspoken has become so commonplace as to have lost much of its appeal and effectiveness. To impute to the speaker motives of playing to his audience would be an unworthy reflection on his sincerity while being in itself an indication of a lack of seriousness on the part of those designated. The element of flattery is altogether irrelevant to the question. The fact is that we are expected to be capable of assuming the responsibilities of leadership after leaving college; it is one of the ways in which we are expected to discharge the debt which we owe society for the education which we are privileged to receive.

But the mere appellation of college student must not be misconstrued as being synonymous with inherent statesmanship. There are countless students turned out of colleges annually—as finished products—who are utterly incapable of rationally analysing current events as to their effect upon the social fabric. Whether or not they can develop this capacity in after life is problematical, and in our opinion, the country cannot but be the poorer to the degree to which the development of this function is neglected in the individual student.

Canada never has suffered, is not now suffering and never will suffer from a dearth of politicians. But the country does need, at this period of her development, the most enlightened electorate which it is possible to command. Democracy is not entirely immune from the same damning indictment which is justly levelled at the theory of the "Divine Right of Kings". While majority rule must hold because it is infinitely better than oligarchy, it is not infallible in matters of judgment nor free from the tendency to succumb to political expediency. It only takes the vote of one ignorant, illiterate ditch-digger to nullify the vote of a professor of political economy or of constitutional law.

The selection of capable national leaders presupposes an intelligent electorate able to assure their election over that of the demagogues who seeks the exploitation of the ignorant. But further, there is in vogue the deplorable practice of selecting candidates to be "representatives" at national caucuses. The bane of every would-be progressive country is the "representative" politician who is so busy keeping his ear to the ground for rumblings from the home camp that he cannot hear the nation's call. Too many of these "representatives" are so many mouthpieces; so many spineless creatures who manifest an alarming responsiveness to fancied sectional grievances. They do not think, act and educate as they should; they do not lead the public thought in the light of rational national development—they merely "represent" their respective constituencies.

Though bounded by personal limitations, we can at least partly discharge our national obligations by cultivating an interest in the country's affairs; by learning and disseminating the proper significance of events, and by preaching an exacting discrimination in the selection of our legislators.

CONDENSED COMMENT

Nominations for the offices of President of the Students' Council, President, Vice-President and Secretary of the Union, must be handed in to the Secretary of the Council before six p.m. on Monday, March 2nd. Only three more days remain for undergraduates to choose from their ranks men whom they think can best assume the duties in connection with these important offices. Several students have been mentioned as capable of filling one or other executive position, but so far as can be ascertained nothing definite has been done in the way of filling out nomination sheets. The absolute necessity of immediate consideration of this question need scarcely be stressed.

A STRIKING PERSONALITY COMING HERE

Cultured Christian Chinese Will Speak Next Tuesday

MR. T. Z. KOO

Is Secretary Of The World's Student Christian Federation

who will address the student body on his work in connection with student Christian Movement.

A striking personality he has been called because of the profound impression he has made wherever he has been. Speaking before delegates at Geneva, he scored a triumph on the Opium Question. In Manchester, England, where the Student Christian Conference was held recently he was hailed as one of the outstanding figures of the occasion. He went to London and spoke before a crowded meeting in Central Hall, Westminster, presided over by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Mr. Koo is the first Oriental to become secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation. For several years he had been secretary of the National Council of the Chinese Young Men's Christian Association, but is graduate of Mission College in China.

HISTORICAL CLUB MEETS AT P.V.C.

Miss MacSparran Read Paper
On William Lyon Mac-
Kenzie

MUCH DISCUSSION
Many Interesting Side Lights
On Conditions At Time
Of Rebellion of 1837

The life of William Lyon MacKenzie was dealt with in detail by Miss MacSparran at a recent meeting of the Historical Club of P.V.C. Miss Harbert was to have read a paper on Papineau, but unfortunately she was ill and unable to attend the meeting, so that only one paper was read.

Miss MacSparran dealt with MacKenzie's relation to events of his time rather than with biographical details. She introduced her subject by a brief description of conditions in Canada a century ago. The country had just passed through a period of war and was suffering from the consequent business depression; there was much bitterness over the war and discontent at the political conditions, so that men's minds were ready for change and progress.

In this period of transition MacKenzie, the political agitator par excellence, was the outstanding figure. In 1824, when he was only twenty-nine, he launched his paper, the "Colonial Advocate". He had no financial backing, but plenty of courage and independence—qualities which had been instilled into him in his youth by his widowed mother, who had managed to give him a good education (for which he repaid her by caring for her to the end of her life).

He found Canada in 1824 governed by the forms laid down in the Constitutional Act of 1791. There was no real democracy, and the governor and his clique ruled the country, regardless of the Assembly's wishes. In favour of this clique it may be said that, contrary to their own interests, they had remained loyal in 1812. MacKenzie criticised the government, approved of the clergy reserves, but thought they should be divided equally among all denominations, and also wanted a non-denominational university. These views were rather revolutionary at the time and partisans of the government destroyed MacKenzie's printing press, which merely won him popular sympathy. In 1828 he was elected to the Assembly, conducting his election with perfect honesty, unlike most of his fellow politicians. In 1831 he was re-elected but was expelled on a trumped-up charge; this process was repeated five times. Soon after this he went to Quebec a trip noteworthy for an incident showing him in an unusual light: his boat was wrecked on the river, and the passengers had to jump from one block of ice to another to get ashore; one lady was too nervous to do this, and it is said that MacKenzie made of himself a human bridge over which she could pass.

In 1832 MacKenzie bore an unofficial petition of grievances to England. The Colonial Secretary received him well, and offered him a lucrative position in Canada, which he refused. At his instance also, the Colonial Secretary sent an admonitory despatch to the Canadian government, which, however, paid no attention to it. In 1834, MacKenzie became first mayor of Toronto (previously York), and during his term of office showed great courage in a cholera epidemic, and cleaned up the Welland canal scandal. About this time he gave up the "Colonial Advocate" and was again elected to the Assembly, taking his seat this time, as his party was in power.

In 1835, Sir Francis Bondhead was sent out as Lieutenant-Governor. He was rash, tactless, and incompetent, and undoubtedly presided over the rebellion of 1837. The onus of it must rest on him, rather than on MacKenzie, who had given repeated warnings of the danger. After the failure of the rebellion MacKenzie was exiled, and was forced to begin his life over again in the United States. In 1839, he was tried on a charge of setting on foot a military

DR. WALTER SCOTT DIED AT OXFORD

Was Professor Of Classics At McGill In 1905

A former McGill professor, Dr. Walter Scott, who occupied the chair of classics here in 1905 died of February 26th, at his residence at Oxford at the age of 69. The London Times says of him: "Scott made his name in learned world as long ago as 1885 by publication of 'Pragmata Herculaniensis,' Epicurean fragment found in excavations at Herculaneum which had come into possession of Bodleian Library. He contributed many articles to classical journals both in England and in Australia and Canada, one of the most notable of which was an early essay on the epicurean conception of the gods, in which he advanced the theory as to their nature which was afterwards adopted and elaborated by Giussani in his 'Lucretian Studies.'"

He had devoted his later years to retirement in Oxford, to the preparation of a very full and careful edition of 'Hermes,' the first volume of which was recently published by the Clarendon Press. Scott was essentially a scholar, and something of a recluse, but in his professorships at Sydney and Montreal he did much to establish the teaching of the classics in the 'Dominions.'

HEBREW LITERATURE AT GROUP DISCUSSION

"The Development of the Hebrew Literature" is the topic of discussion at the next meeting of the Macca-baen Study Group, which will be held on Sunday evening at the home of Miss F. Levkoff, 2400 Hutchison St. Outremont.

An outline of the subject will be given by M. Etzioni, Arts '27, an general discussion of the history aspects, and influences of the Hebrew writings, will follow.

The Study Group has yet several interesting discussions to be held this year, including subjects such as "Jewish Characteristics" and "The Jewish Religion of To-Day and Tomorrow."

expedition against Canada, within the territory of the United States. He was fired and condemned to eighteen months' imprisonment, after which he thought less of the American government and had fewer regrets over the outcome of the rebellion. After many petitions for his release, he was set free, and then almost destitute had to find support for his wife and six children.

By 1843, Papineau and other leaders of the rebellion had been pardoned, but MacKenzie could only return to Canada seven years later. On his return he was elected to the Assembly and continued his political activity. Responsible government had been won, but there were still the questions of separate schools, representation by population, and the clergy reserves. He resigned in 1858 and died three years later.

He had to the end maintained his political independence his uprightness, and his love of his country. He was one of the most arresting personalities of the century and will be remembered as long as men thrill at tales of patriotism, and, like so few other politicians, he was an honest man.

An interesting discussion followed in which several people questioned MacKenzie's courage, especially at the time of his escape, and Miss MacSparran defended him. There was also some discussion on Durham and his report.

end of the final movement, the sound of bells gradually fading away in the distance.

Miss M. Bell, accompanied by Miss Lichtenstein, in the vocal numbers "Solweig's Cradle Song" by Grieg and "Shepherd, Thy Deaneor Vary," by Brown, was a wonderful success and won enthusiastic applause.

The aria by Handel, "Hear me, ye Winds and Waves," was rendered with great ability by Mr. Harold Solby.

A trio "Serenade" for two violins and pianoforte was given by the violinists, Miss K. Perrin and Mr. E. Sherrard, who are so well known patrons of the Conservatorium Concerts. Three out of five of the pieces comprising the "Serenade" were played by these talented performers.

The last number, "Le Nozze di Figaro," by Mozart, always a welcome addition to any orchestra programme, because it is one of the most perfect of Classic Masterpieces, was presented in a masterly fashion by the members of the orchestra.

MEETING OF M.W.S.S. HELD RECENTLY

Election Of Officers In March and April

At a General Committee meeting of the McGill Women's Students' Society recently the chief business was the setting of dates for the elections which are to take place about the last of March.

Offices in this Society and in the McGill Women's Students' Athletic Association are open to all women students and take precedence over officers in subsidiary societies. This means that an early election is necessary and everyone concerned is urged to consider at once who are best fitted to hold the different offices.

The business of the Society will be transacted on the following dates:

March 15, 1925—General meeting of the McGill Women's Student Society.

March 23—Nominations will appear in the McGill Daily.

March 27—Voting for the M. W. S. S. will take place.

March 28—Results of the voting will appear in the McGill Daily (d.v.)

April 2—Voting for the M. W. S. A. A. will take place.

April 11—Results of this voting will appear in the McGill Daily.

COMMERCE PLAYERS WON BASEBALL GAME

An exciting game of indoor baseball took place yesterday afternoon between Commerce and Medicine. Commerce came from behind and won by 8-7. Meds. stepped into the lead in the 2nd inning which they continued to hold till last when Commerce bunched hits for three runs, tying the score 7 all. This necessitated an extra inning resulting in one run for Commerce.

Philpotts, the Meds. pitcher was outstanding receiving good support while Milne in the box for Commerce was up to his usual good form. Marrell saved the situation for Commerce during the last inning by a beautiful catch at first. The teams comprised the following:—
Commerce: Milne, Kenwick, Kettle, Morrell, Glennie, Wilner.
Medicine: Peacock, Philpotts, Scott, Grassuck, Shepherd, McDonald, Green, and Moffat.

AN INTERNATIONAL STUDENT MAGAZINE

Published By The European
Student Relief Committee

"Vox Studentium," an international student magazine, published monthly from November to July at Geneva by the European Student Relief, enables students in forty different countries to get regular news and information about each other, and about university life in general. It seeks to make known and to interpret across all national frontiers the ideals, opinions, needs activities and movements which obtain among students everywhere.

The subscription price for the "Vox Studentium" is only sixty cents for eight months. Subscriptions should be sent to the Student Friendship Fund, 347 Madison Avenue, New York, U.S.A. The editor of the magazine is Donald Grant M.A.

Besides its regular supply of news and information "Vox Studentium" provides historical background and scientific information with regard to urgent questions of the present time. Two series of articles may be mentioned in this connection. 1. The Role of Youth in Various Periods up to the Present Day. 2. Questions of Race—What is Latin? Leontine? Anglo-Saxon? Slav? Celtic? Semitic?

In later numbers of the magazine the following articles will appear: "Students and Labor" by M. Albert Thomas, Director, The International Labor Office, Geneva; "The New Movement in China" by T. Z. Koo, China; "The Role of Youth in the Middle Ages" by Professor Pomicko, England.

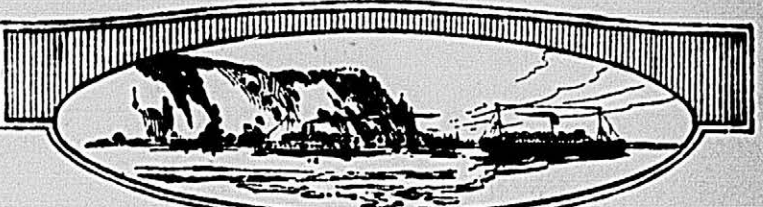

The Committee of Intellectual Cooperation of the League of Nations supplies "Vox Studentium" directly each month with news about its work; while the International Federation of University Women, as well as the principal Student Representative Organizations, in many lands, contribute regular news—letters to the magazine.

Amid the chaos of the present time there are, among students, many signs of idealism of constructive will, and of longing for a more adequate philosophy of life. The desire for more intercourse with colleagues of other nations is especially evident. In this situation "Vox Studentium" has a great opportunity of serving students and graduates throughout the world. "Vox Studentium" consists of sixteen pages and sometimes of twenty. There are always four or five principal articles besides news and other information. A specimen copy will be sent to any address.

HOW MUCH OF THE BIBLE DO COLLEGE STUDENTS KNOW?

Do College students know the Bible? Is the Bible a book easily understood? Do we need a new version of the Bible, asks "Student Life"?

Recently Dr. N. A. Pedersen gave a list of ten expressions of the New Testament, to be explained by one of his classes in senior college English. The results tend toward the conclusion that the majority of the people are probably interpreting the Bible in a vague and hazy fashion.

Dr. Pedersen gave this experimental test with the purpose of trying to find whether or not contention made by the author of the Goodspeed Bible is well founded on facts. This Bible scholar asserts that the Bible was originally written in the common language of the street of the people of that period. He bases this assertion on material found in recently discovered biblical manuscripts. He has reached the conclusion that if the Bible is to be understood by people of the present time that the language must be changed to the common language of the present. Mr. Goodspeed's Bible gives the literal meaning of difficult phrasing but it has lost many of its literary qualities.

Do we need a Bible with literal meanings, clearly given in preference to one of real literary worth? Very likely we do if our present Bible is too difficult to be understood. It is important that we do understand the greatest of all books. For instance, the word "candle" may be more poetic than "lamp" but the fact that candles were not used at that time would make some difference in meanings. John the Baptist was not clothed as the majority of people think in a suit of camel's skin but rather with clothes of a coarse heavy cloth and with a belt of leather around his waist. Anyone who has an idea that he had a vest and small trousers of camel's skin needs to be corrected.

If nine people out of ten interpret the statement, "The rains descended and the floods came," to mean that water from the heavens was flooding in all directions, they lose the real significance that the heavy rains caused the rivers to overflow their banks.

It is true that some of Mr. Goodspeed's interpretations do not cause great differences of ideas presented, but, on the other hand many obscure meanings are greatly clarified by the new literal translation.

Dr. Pedersen believes that if college students cannot understand the Bible as it is written that it is surely a forbidding book to the majority of people of little education.

The Goodspeed Bible may never take the place of the King James version but the fact remains that any attempt to increase our knowledge of the Bible cannot help but be a movement in the right direction.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Daily is not responsible for sentiments of letters published in the correspondence columns. Signed communications from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculties will be placed in print if they are not of too great length.

Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office—that they write upon ONE SIDE OF THE PAPER ONLY.

No communication will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

The Editor,
McGill Daily,
Dear Sir:—May I again make use of your columns in reference to Mr. Dingman's letter, appearing in Tuesday's Daily, in reply to mine of Feb. 22nd.

On reading the first paragraph of his letter, I was glad to note that he considered my letter needed very little effort in answering. I certainly didn't for a moment think it would require much effort for anybody who was conversant with all the facts of the case, as I thought my questions were straightforward and not masked in any way at all. However, on further reading of his letter, I am afraid he has missed most of the questions asked, and in fact I would request him to read again my letter and if possible, append a "little more effort" and answer some of them.

Mr. Dingman is quite right in stating the financial point of view appeals to me—otherwise I would not have written the letter asking that it be answered by someone who saw the "justifiableness of this year's increased prices," for has it not been the slogan around college this year to reduce prices as evinced by the reduction of tickets for Union House dances and the McGill Annual.

I must thank Mr. Dingman for one piece of news, however, viz. regarding rent of the theatre on a seat basis. He states that the "rent this year is 15.6 cents as against 21 cents last year, and that there are 1,646 seats more this year." May I ask on what these figures are based, i. e. seat rent prices? In any case this looks as if we were getting each seat at a reduction of 54 cents this year. Am I wrong in assuming this, for if not, why in the face of that, raise the prices over those of last year's?

I should think to point out to Mr. Dingman that I am in no way trying to "knock" the Revue as a Revue, but merely have asked for regards the prices set for this year, and that I think that he will find that quite a large number of the students do think that prices are too high. This requires very little effort.

May I again ask for a statement of last year's profit.
Thanking you again for your space.
I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN C. MACKENZIE

UNPRECEDENTED RUSH FOR TICKETS

Thirty More Go On Sale To-day

Tickets for the big event of the season went on sale yesterday and in less than forty-five minutes the one hundred and ninety cards had been disposed of. This constitutes a record first day sale for dance tickets around the college. At one p.m. the line stretched from the Tuck Shop to the hall room then back again into the lounge room. The committee regrets that some twenty or twenty-five undergraduates were disappointed but as it had been decided to keep thirty-five of the two hundred and twenty-five tickets, for to-day it was necessary to withdraw the subscription list.

The box-office will open again at 1 p.m. to-day and it is expected that the thirty-five tickets will not be long in disappearing.
Arrangements are nearing completion to make the 1925 Alma Mater, the most successful ever, and if advance enthusiasm about the campus can be taken as an indication, there is little doubt of this. Several novel surprises have been arranged for the dance, which will be in evidence in the programmes, favours and midnight supper.

The daughter of a certain strict principled old deacon had attended a dance against her father's wishes. When she appeared the next morning, he greeted her with the words:

"Good morning, daughter of the devil."

To which the maiden respectfully replied.

"Good morning — father." Orange and White.

Williams Aqua Velva

For After Shaving

Aqua Velva is scientific because its formula is based upon research by Physiologists.

Aqua Velva was made expressly for one purpose — use after shaving. That is why it conserves the natural moisture of the skin, prevents face-shine and protects the skin from wintry winds and cold.
